

Shanghai is one of the most economically developed cities in China, where most of the world's top 500 companies have set up headquarters or branches. KEDP set up Shanghai branch in 2011 in Lujiazui which is the newly emerging financial area in Pudong District and provides services mainly in mergers & acquisitions and business development. At KEDP Shanghai branch, there are experienced accountants and financial experts providing professional consulting services about enterprise mergers and acquisitions to decrease the risks during the transaction process. KEDP Shanghai has been growing rapidly and keeps an eye on the global economic environment, hoping to be a well-rounded tax and financial expert in East China.
